THOUGHT THE WORLD SMALL.

When Her Comment in Europe Found Its Echo in America.

"I have known for some time that the world is small," complained a woman recently, "but I did suppose one could make a comment in Europe that would not echo in America. On the piazza of a little inn in the Swiss mountains last summer I chatted with two ladies of a party we had encountered at two or three places en route till we felt as if we had a little acquaintance with them. When they discovered we were from Minneapolis, one of them asked if we knew Mr. B. As he is a very intimate friend of ours, we cordially assented and fell to discussing his family. Incidentally I spoke of his first wife and commented on the fact that the present and second Mrs. B. refused to allow the picture of her predecessor to hang in the house. 'We never knew the first Mrs. B.,' I said, 'but we do know and are very fond of the second wife. There must have been something very peculiar about Mrs. B. No. 1 to make Mrs. B. No. 2 so persistent in her determination to keep all mention and memory of her out of the way.' 'My new friend smiled a little oddly before she said: 'There was something peculiar about the first Mrs. B., which, I believe, cannot be attributed to the second. She was a rarely beautiful woman, and her untimely death at 24 was a terrible blow to her husband. He married again after awhile—he was too young a man to spend a lifetime alone—but his young love has always been a tender memory to him, and her picture, painted by a famous artist, and wonderfully lifelike, undoubtedly attracted too much attention from every one who saw it to please the present wife, who must be a jealous woman. I know,' she finished suavely, 'for the picture hangs today in my own parlor. The original was my sister.' After a wild attempt to recall just what I had said about the first wife, I registered a vow that hereafter with strangers, though I encountered them in South Africa, I would never mention a name again."—New York Times.

SUFFOCATED BY THE SNAKE'S ODOR.

A Maine Man's Hazardous Encounter With a Virginia Recluse.

"When I was a young fellow," says a now aged Maine man, "I went into southern Virginia for a time. I had lived in Maine and Massachusetts and consequently had no fear of snakes. I had formed a habit of picking up by the tail such snakes as came across my path and of giving them a quick snap to break their necks. Soon after I went to the south, in the road one day I saw a small snake, a couple of feet long, perhaps, and of a yellowish color, wriggling across the path. Without thinking of harm, I jumped for him, put my foot on his neck, and catching him by the tail, swung him to give him a snap. Some people were near by, and they yelled to me like wild men to drop that snake. 'I stopped a moment, while the snake wriggled, and then I snapped him in two and ancient form. Mark the result. In less than ten minutes I became drowsy and insensible and remained so for several hours in spite of the efforts of those who had warned me to rouse my dormant senses. I did not know that the snake bit me in any way and do not now believe he did. The air had a suffocating, sickening smell—an odor thrown off by the snake, I think, and breathing that poisoned me. 'The snake, I was told, was a moccasiner, one of the most venomous of the whole tribe of crotalids. Since that day snapping snakes has afforded me no fun.'—Lewiston Journal.

Curing a Snake's Blindness.

One of the most poisonous snakes at the Louisiana zoo, a king cobra, recently became nearly blind. When it shed its skin, it threw off every part except the transparent plate which covers the eye. After each change of skin this plate remained uncast, and the successive layers became opaque and projected over the eye in a lumpy mass. The keeper used the snake's habit of creeping through any aperture which it can find in the wall of its cage to rid itself of the growth over the eye. He drew back the iron shutter which separates one compartment from the other, leaving a narrow space open. The cobra soon discovered this, and pushed its nose into the crack. This was slightly widened, and the snake squeezed through, rubbing off one of the scales as it did so. It was then induced to go back by the way it had come, and after this had been repeated once or twice it cleared the scale from the other eye. Since then it has cast its skin completely and its eyes are apparently none the worse for its temporary blindness. Snakes naturally drag themselves through rough grass and holes to get rid of the old skin which clings to them.—London Public Opinion.

Poverty Must Stay.

In a magazine article Mr. Andrew Carnegie says: "We should be quite willing to abolish luxury, but to abolish poverty would be to destroy the only soil upon which mankind can depend to produce the virtues which alone can enable our race to reach a still higher civilization than it now possesses."

ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

Many a boy starts out in life with the firm determination of conquering the world. He means to achieve success and wealth and fame. His intentions are good, and his will is strong. If he has the capacity and strength to carry him through, his efforts will be crowned with a high achievement. Bodily strength and health are his greatest assets. Without them he can hope for nothing. How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. Consumption has been considered incurable, and the medical profession has never made a greater mistake than this. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 99 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchitis and throat affections. There is no reason why the child of consumptive parents need ever have consumption if its blood and lungs are strengthened by the proper use of the "Discovery." THE REPUBLICAN DELEGATION.

The proposition to hire a hall and get the delegation from Nevada to the Republican National Convention to explain their action at the convention may, if carried into effect, develop some facts of interest to the public.

Nevada Republicans have always claimed to be in favor of free coinage. The party leaders admitted that the party was wrong when it passed the demonetization act in 1878. State platforms for many years pledged the party to right that wrong, but, as the people are painfully aware, the wrong was never righted. Less than two months ago, the party, in State Convention, declared for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, and elected six delegates to the National Convention on that platform. When the National Convention declared against free coinage, three of the six delegates left the convention. Mr. Cleveland has publicly declared that he and his two associates, who left the convention, believed that the Republican party of Nevada is in favor of free coinage, as it so declared in its platform, and they but carried out the wishes of their constituents in leaving the convention. Mr. Sprague of Elko, one of the three delegates who remained in the convention, says in the columns of his paper, that "the Nevada delegation went to St. Louis to represent the straight-out Republicans of Nevada, not the Silver party, and the three who stayed by the Republican party are satisfied that they expressed the sentiment of the State Convention that sent them there."

Evidently if Mr. Cleveland is right Mr. Sprague is wrong, and vice versa. Mr. Cleveland, however, is supported by the platform adopted at the time the delegates were chosen, but possibly Mr. Sprague may be substantiated by something back of the platform, when he says he is satisfied that the three delegates who remained in the National Convention, expressed the sentiment of the State Convention.

The public meeting, as proposed, might settle this vexed question if the delegates could be prevailed upon to attend and confront each other. As it is the bolters have decidedly the best of it, as the State platform declares for free coinage, and the National platform, which they repudiate, declares against it.

All Republicans in Nevada were supposed to be straight-outs at the time of the convention. If there were persons in the party who upheld the single gold standard, they prudently remained silent in State Conventions. Mr. Cleveland was known to be for silver, yet he was elected a delegate to St. Louis, and if Mr. Sprague was a gold man it is not of record that he protested against a free silver platform.

THE FREE COINAGE RESOLUTION.

Two months ago the most sanguine advocates of free coinage hoped for nothing better at the Democratic National Convention than a bolt on the part of the silver men. It was not expected that the silver men would have even a respectable minority in the convention. The Administration was emphatically for the gold standard and its influence in many of the States was used to control conventions and secure delegations for the gold standard. The efforts of the gold men to stem the silver tide was unavailing. The free coinage wave surmounted all obstacles. It swept the West and South and its crest surmounted that supposed-to-be irresistible barrier, the Alleghany mountains. Now on the eve of the convention the silver men have not only a majority of the delegates, but it is believed they will have over 600 of the 980.

In all parts of the country the demand for free coinage is heard above all other issues. In the cotton and rice fields of South Carolina, the sugar plantations of Louisiana, the coal and iron mountains of Alabama, the factories of Georgia, the tobacco farms of Virginia and Kentucky, the corn and wheat fields of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, the forests of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the silver craze, as our gold friends facetiously call it, is epidemic. West of the Missouri from the Dakotas through Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri to Texas the people with one acclaim demand free coinage. In the silver States of Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Utah and Nevada partisan barriers have been leveled to the ground, and Republicans, Democrats, Populists and silver men, with the exception of a few pie-counter politicians, will support any candidate by what ever party nominated who is unequivocally for free coinage and against the trusts and monopolies which are crushing the masses.

Never since the war has there been such an uprising of the people. The revolt against gold rule, inaugurated in Nevada four years ago, when men of all parties met in convention, declared their independence, sent delegates to the Omaha Convention and gave the electoral vote of the State to General Weaver, the nominee of that convention, has spread over the whole West and South, and if wise council prevails at Chicago next week and at St. Louis on the 22d instant, and the people are not betrayed by their leaders, the next President and Congress of the United States will release the people from the fetters of the gold trust and peace, plenty and prosperity will again smile on the land.

DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE.

The Labor Union Favorable Teller. Chicago, July 1.—A conference between Governor Altgeld, Governor Stone and other leading Democrats was held in the Sherman House to-day for the purpose of outlining a plan of action to be carried out with the National Committee regarding the temporary organization of the convention. They remained in session the greater part of the forenoon. The room was closely guarded. There has been some talk of Altgeld for permanent Chairman. The Governor's friends declare that he would not accept that honor.

Grand Master Sovereign of the Knights of Labor was mingling with Democratic politicians at the Palmer House to-day. He is pronouncedly opposed to the gold standard, and says that if the Democrats nominate a man acceptable on the financial question he will have his support. He considers Teller the most available and acceptable candidate, but says if the Democrats refuse to go outside of their own party for a candidate, Governor Boies is the preferable man. He contradicts the report that the Iowa candidate is antagonistic to labor interests.

FROM JAPAN.

Japanese Laborers for Coffee Plantations. Victoria, B. C., July 1.—The Empress of India, just arrived from Japan, brings word that Signor Calvo, the Spanish Minister to Japan, has been recalled by his Government, and will return via the next American steamer. Lieutenant Thurston of the United States steamship, Detroit, died recently at Yokohama of typhoid fever and was buried with the usual honors.

A treaty is being negotiated between Japan and Brazil for the sending of 20,000 Japanese laborers to the coffee plantations of Brazil. They are to receive one pound ten shillings per month and everything found on a five-year contract.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The Nebraska Republican State Convention ratified the St. Louis platform and nominated a ticket.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stow, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," died at Hartford, Conn., yesterday.

Rufus Buck, Louis Davis and three members of the Sampson family were hanged at Fort Smith, Arkansas, yesterday.

Vice President Stevenson arrived at Chicago yesterday on his way home. He declined to express his opinion on political questions.

There is said to be a small faction in favor of the Illinois proposition to abrogate the two-thirds rule in the Democratic National Convention.

The Egyptian Government steamer, Bahmanah from Suez to Suez has been wrecked on a reef and sixty persons on board are supposed to be drowned.

Another cave in the Twin shaft coal mine at Wilkesbarre, Pa., has driven the rescuers back about 200 feet. Fifty-nine men have been imprisoned in the mine four days and there is no prospect of rescuing them alive.

Grand Master Sovereign of the Knights of Labor is in Chicago. He says Teller is the most available and acceptable candidate for President, but if the Democrats refuse to go outside their own party Governor Boies is a favorable man. He denies that Boies is antagonistic to the labor interests.

The strikers and Deputy Sheriffs at the Berca stone quarries at West View, Ohio, had a pitched battle yesterday. Over a hundred shots were exchanged and a hand to hand conflict ensued. One striker had a leg broken. While the Deputy Sheriffs were engaged with the strikers, the women took the quarries by storm and drove off the men who had taken their husband's places. Four companies of militia have been ordered out to assist the Deputy Sheriffs.

Change of Firm.

Geo. Sauer, late of Washoe City and Fred Grob have succeeded to the butchering business of J. A. Holcomb at the Truckee Market. The new firm will endeavor, as far as possible to sustain the good reputation so long held by this pioneer market, and will try to merit an increase of patronage by the choice meats and butchers' novelties they will have on sale. Mr. Grob was formerly connected with the market and is well acquainted with the needs of all patrons. The business will be under the personal supervision of the two proprietors and no pains will be spared to give the best of service in their line.

Vinvi.

Vinvi is more of a food than a medicine. I should be glad to have those who do not understand its use, call and get a Health Book free and read the home testimonials. Vinvi sales in 1895 exceeded those in 1894 by half a million dollars. Mrs. B. E. HUNTER, Fourth Street.

Developing a Cathodograph.

In developing a cathodograph picture it is noticeable that the development goes on all through the film, back as well as front. This is not the case with ordinary camera exposures, which develop from the front toward the back of the plate. The behavior noted is with the cathodograph an indication of the fact that the sensitive film itself is largely transparent to the cathode rays, and therefore lets them through without fully utilizing them. If they could all be absorbed and made to do chemical work, our time for making an impression would be much abbreviated.—Elton Thompson in Century.

What to Do Before Cycling.

First get a vial of arnica, some court plaster, two bits' worth of oil of sassafras and a pound of raw beef. Then prepare your soul for affliction, and as a matter of precaution see that your accident insurance is paid up and your peace made with heaven. This all done, and you are prepared to take your first lesson on a bicycle.—Galveston News.

The czar of Russia is said to have among his household an understudy, singularly like him in appearance, who shows himself at the windows of railway carriages and the like when his majesty does not wish to be disturbed.

The swallow has a larger mouth, in proportion to its size, than any other bird. He needs it too, for he does all his feeding on the wing, and a big mouth is a great convenience.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

GOOD BYE, REPUBLICANS.

Ex-Congressman Bartine Issues a Farewell Address to the Party.

The action of the St. Louis convention completely absolves every genuine bimetalist from all allegiance to the party, for not only has it changed front upon the most important question before the people, but it has assumed a position that cannot be upheld either as a cold economic question or upon the principles of natural justice between man and man. Calling money "sound" does not make it "sound," calling money "honest" and ringing the changes upon it incessantly do not make it "honest," unless it be so in fact. The gold standard is not an honest standard for the conclusive reason that it has doubled in its purchasing power in twenty-three years and is rising in value all the time. The man who claims that the gold standard is an honest one is either dishonest himself or he does not know what is really involved. The latter is undoubtedly the case with the great majority of men now shouting for "sound money." They are like those who crucified the Savior. "They know not what they do." But their action is just as fatal to the best interests of the country as if they did know.

Therefore the National Bimetalist most heartily approves the course of Henry M. Teller, Frank G. Cannon, Fred T. Dubois, R. P. Pettigrew, A. C. Cleveland and those who followed them from the convention hall. Those men have all been life long members of the Republican party. They have clung to its fortunes through weal and woe. Hoping against hope they have borne its banner aloft amid the snowy mountains and upon the sun scorched, storm swept plains of the far West. When the tide of Republican sentiment in Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Montana turned against the party, these men fought its battles and pleaded its cause with the fiery and indignant pioneers of those States. Some of them, notably Mr. Cleveland of Nevada, almost destroyed themselves politically in their efforts to hold the party together. The one great argument which they used was that the Republican party was true to the principle of bimetalism; that it was hampered by the extreme conservatism of New England and the Middle States, but that as the question was more carefully studied and came to be better understood the party would respond to the just demands of the West, which demands are in the interest of the great body of the American people. They now behold the party which they loved and honored completely stultifying its past record, repudiating the doctrine of bimetalism, proclaiming a policy which means ruin to the toilers, producers and debtors of America and becoming a more machine to register the decrees of Wall street with its vast accumulations of gold.

The editor of the National Bimetalist, like those who left the convention hall, has also been a Republican in principle ever since he was old enough to think, proud of the origin of the party, proud of its achievements and proud of the great names it has emblazoned in imperishable letters upon the pages of our country's history. But the glories of Lincoln and Seward and Chase and Grant and Garfield and Blaine can never atone for the shortcomings of the party in 1896. He cannot swallow what ever a lot of subservient politicians attempt to put in his mouth merely because Lincoln was a grand and noble character. Lincoln was the friend of the common people, a humanitarian in the truest and purest sense, but the gold standard is the instrument of despotic wealth and the oppressor of the poor. Believing that the cause of bimetalism is the cause of humanity, the most important issue before the people of this country, he is left no alternative but to follow the example of the illustrious Senator from Colorado and regretfully, but firmly says, Good Bye.—H. G. Bartine in National Bimetalist.

The Old Prison Walls Just the Thing. Many of those who believe that the Corbett-Sharkey contest would be a good thing from a financial standpoint if it could be arranged to be pulled off in this State, have been considering locations, the building of a pavilion and such matters. Several have suggested that the old prison walls near the Asylum could be utilized as an enclosure. Seats could be built on three of the sides and the front arranged for the entrance the whole costing but a trifle. The walls are twenty feet high and a seating capacity for 50,000 people could be arranged and the view of the ring would be simply immense. No better accommodations could be found in the United States than this big enclosure, nor could there be one fitted up at less expense. Besides this, after the fighters and spectators were inside these great walls and the gates closed they would be almost as isolated as if on an island in the Pacific. The scheme is a good one, but it being State property there might be a hitch.

CHRISTOPHER BUCKLEY.

He Spends Yesterday in Reno and Meets Many Old Friends.

Chris Buckley, the noted Democratic politician of California and San Francisco arrived from the west yesterday morning accompanied by his nephew, W. H. Harrison. The JOURNAL representative had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Buckley yesterday afternoon and found him a very social and pleasant gentleman. When asked if he had come to Reno to look over the political situation he replied that he had not, but was here to meet his wife and child whom he expected to arrive from the East this morning. Mrs. Harrison is with Mrs. Buckley, so the two gentlemen came this far to meet their wives and return over the mountains by daylight.

Mr. Buckley stated to the reporter that he was out of politics and had not taken a very active part in them for a number of years. That he would not under any consideration enter the political arena again. He admitted that he still felt interested, but only such interest as every individual should feel in public affairs. He says he is still a Democrat and in favor of silver and hopes that a good silver man will be named for President by the Chicago Convention. In speaking of the factional differences frequently shown in the Democratic ranks, he said that such differences often arose at the beginning of a campaign in all parties, but that the majority usually prevailed and matters were finally adjusted satisfactorily.

Mr. Buckley strikes one at once as an intelligent man. He is an entertaining conversationalist and is brimming over with anecdotes and reminiscences. Although blind he has a wonderful faculty of remembering voices and recognizes old friends whom he has not met for years by the first word they utter. A number of his old time acquaintances called upon him at the Palace yesterday, among whom were Richard Ryland, R. M. Sage, Deputy Sheriff Caughlin and others, all of whom he recognized immediately and greeted cordially. A. C. Bragg and U. S. Attorney Jones took Mr. Buckley and Mr. Harrison for a drive about town yesterday and both gentlemen expressed themselves as being very much pleased with Reno, and Mr. Buckley said that he had enjoyed the day greatly. Both gentlemen will leave for San Francisco on this morning's west-bound.

THE GOLDBUG VS. THE SILVER MAN.

That is the One Great Issue of the Campaign.

The following letter, written before the meeting of the Republican National Convention, by one of the professors of the Indiana State University, shows the sentiment of the people of the Middle States on the financial issue:

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., June 13, 1896.

Hon. H. C. Cutting, Sept. Public Instruction, Carson City, Nevada:

My DEAR MR. CUTTING:—Your unique yet interesting and significant letter came a few days ago.

I beg to assure you that the people of the Mississippi valley are fully aware of the fact that the one great issue in the present campaign is the goldbug vs. the silver man. I further assure you that we're going to see that Indiana stands in the right column. Our people, especially the agricultural element, which is an element of great power, are demanding free silver, and that party which puts itself upon a free silver platform is going to win the day. Party lines are going to be broken down and free silver is going to be the watchword of Indiana.

Kentucky, our neighbor to the south, is almost unanimous for free silver, and we feel quite confident that Indiana will go for free silver.

The great issue, and the one objective point next week at St. Louis will be whether or not the convention will make the keystone of the platform free silver as against gold. This will be more important, by far, than whom they will nominate for President.

We hope to be with Nevada or not far behind her on the free silver question. You certainly will not leave a stone unturned that will make for free and unlimited coinage of silver. To my mind that is our hope.

Yours for success.

R. A. TROTH.

He fulfills every promise made on his bills and his patrons may be assured of receiving value for their money.

Oregon Democrats are going to Chicago with "Pennoyer for President" emblazoned on their banners.

The fact that the ex-Governor is an out-and-out Populist does not lessen the esteem of the Oregon silver Democrats for him.

The hall in which the Democratic National Convention is to be held in Chicago is the largest building in the world. It is 727 feet long by 300 feet wide and can be so arranged by a system of sliding doors to accommodate an audience of 1,000 or 50,000.

At the Reno last night the following were registered: J. L. Considine, Virginia; Jack Thompson, City; Jas. K. Harrison, Berkeley; Chas. McCabe, Wilmington; E. Wilson, City; T. H. Hooper, Mariposa; E. Cole, San Francisco; and Wm. Daffield, city.

Is there any Reason for it.

It was noticed yesterday that a number of leading Republicans were hobnobbing with Chris. Buckley and after several interviews during the afternoon a portion of the evening was spent in discussing a few bottles of wine. Of course it may have been simply in the way of social civility and a disposition to entertain the great manipulator, but follows on the outside could not help wondering what was going on when two or three reported Republican office seekers were in such close communion with the so-called Democratic boss. As the wine flowed titles like General, Colonel, Captain, etc., became more numerous and there was a general good time and high aspirations.

Diphtheria at Virginia.

The Board of Health at Virginia discovered five cases of diphtheria in the family of W. H. Trathen yesterday, one child having died the night before. The attending physician reported that the child had died of spasms and preparations were being made for a public funeral, when Dr. Manson, accompanied by Dr. McDonald, made an investigation and immediately took steps to enforce the law to prevent the spread of contagious diseases.

At Death's Door.

Mrs. J. A. Williams, one of Reno's oldest residents, was reported very ill last evening. She has been in poor health for a long time, but her illness did not seem to be so serious until a few days ago, when she grew rapidly worse. Her physician considered her condition very serious last night and it was feared she would not live till morning.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this remedy for coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Hodgkinson's Drug Store.
